Headline:
A frosty start with occasional wintry showers continuing.

Today:
Frosty start for many areas, risk of icy stretches on untreated surfaces. Scattered wintry showers for coastal areas, and possibly further inland at times. Much less windy but still feeling very cold despite sunny spells. Maximum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining showers tending to die away through the evening, with clearing skies and another very cold and frosty night for most. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Monday:
A dry, bright and frosty start. Cloud increasing through the morning with outbreaks of rain arriving into the afternoon and evening, with freshening winds. Maximum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Tuesday and Wednesday will be windy with showers or longer spells of rain, but generally milder. Into Thursday looking to turn brighter and drier but also cooler.
